Outbreak in Crime in
New York in Months.

New York, August 11.—On one of the summer's hot, sticky days, a policeman's bullet killed a gunman, and gunmen's bullets killed one policeman and seriously wounded another, while an officer, slain Saturday night by suspected robbers, was buried. In the past six days, three policemen have been shot and killed.

While gunmen and police were shooting it out in Manhattan, a courtly bandit directing three rough-looking assistants held up a bank in Queens and got away with $13,000.

On top of this came a report that a safe in Brooklyn had been opened a few days ago and $600 in cash taken.

It was the worst crime outbreak in New York in months. Those charged with law enforcement immediately got into action.

Slayer Is Indicted.
Gene Cooper, a 30-year-old negro who admitted killing John M. Singer, an automobile squad detective, at police headquarters, was indicted for first degree murder seven hours after his arrest—ten hours after the shooting.

Magistrate Powers increased bail from $500 to $5,000 for a prisoner charged with carrying a concealed weapon without a permit, when Assistant District Attorney White attributed the recent killings of policemen to gun tooters.

Ironically enough, the crime outbreak came after publication Wednesday of a statement of Warden Laws, of Sing Sing, who said that killing is safer than robbing under the present laws. The warden pointed out that, where punishment for robbery may run as high as 40 years imprisonment, a second degree murder sentence is only 15 years.

Patterson, stalled far behind, First choice votes will not decide any of the state contests.

The first of Wednesday's deaths came when Patrolman John P. Cook, killed Michael McDonald, wh was in flight from a chain grocery, where he had been separated in robbery attempt in the course of which the manager of the store was shot. Cook himself was wounded by the bandit. John Hutchinson, manager of the store, was treated for a bullet in the head.

Another Is Shot.

A short time after Police Commissioner George V. McLaughlin learned of the shootings and issued a statement saying he would demand imprisonment for life for any one who shot at a policeman, word reached headquarters that another murderer had been committed.

In the hallway of his tenement, Mrs. Conetta, was shot in the leg.

Detective Singer was shot when questioning Pierce in police headquarters. Pierce had been arrested in connection with an automobile theft. The questioning was interrupted when Pierce, with Singer's permission, had stepped to the other side of the room for a drink. When Pierce returned Singer was leaning over the desk. His back, with the service revolver slung over the hip, was toward the other two districts were unheard from.

Congressmen Renominated.

Six of Alabama's representatives to congress were renominated, being chosen by their opposition. They are: George Huddleston, third district; E. C. Morris, eighth district; Lamar Jeffers, fourth district; Lister Hill, second district; W. B. Oliver, sixth district and John McDuffie, first district.

In the other four districts, where the nomination was contested, returns were meager and incomplete. In the fifth district, W. B. Bolding, Inc., L. Patterson, by 500 votes. In the latest returns available Representative W. B. Steagall, third district, was leading J. J. Speight by a slight margin.

Both Gravels and Willis are opposites personally as well as politically. It is common knowledge in Washington that fellow senators take a rather superior air toward Willis. But he has never been equaled by any other senator.

Patterson and Willis are opposites personally as well as politically. It is common knowledge in Washington that fellow senators take a rather superior air toward Willis. But he has never been equaled by any other senator.

Charges of Greed.

Patterson, on the contrary, is not quite so bold on the stump but he is more aggressive in the senate and he rises to his best when he is engaged in a senatorial duel over some intricate railroad or legal problem. He won the respect of his colleagues by his skill in Washington he was regarded as a likely contender for the last democratic presidential nomination. But this enthusiasm proved to be non-portable for when he went back to Ohio for reelection, Fess, a quiet little man who had been carrying water for the administration in the house beat him and raised one well-buffed presidential orb.

Even should Patterson defeat Willis, he still will have more paths to clear before he can get far in any nominating convention for Governor Donnelly, who is running for the term.

Ohio and here the advantage in the early betting. If he is elected, he will start advertising himself nationally and gunning for delegates at home. He and Patterson will have a hard fight over the favorite son endorsement.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.
Washington, August 11.—Ohio now becomes a strategic state with reference to two nationally absorbing questions—the 1928 presidential contest and prohibition—due to the nomination yesterday of former Senator Alles Pomerene as the democratic candidate for United States senator.

He will run against Senator Frank B. Willis, one of the dryest and most regular republicans in the senate, one of the Anti-Saloon league's most willing workers. Pomerene is sufficiently wet to incur the opposition of the organization.

First choice votes will not decide any of the state contests.

Bibb Graves Leads.

Bibb Graves, candidate for governor, maintained a lead of 3,800 over his nearest opponent, Charles S. McDowell. Carmichael was separated from McDowell by about the same margin. Patterson trailed far behind.

First choice votes will not decide any of the state contests.

Drys Have Won.

In two previous referendums, Ohio has voted dry. In 1919 a 2.75 per cent beer proposal drew a dry majority of 29,000 and in 1922 a similar referendum gave a dry majority of 189,000. This dry majority is largely the product of the Anti-Saloon league, which was born in Westerville, Ohio, and still has its national headquarters there. Pomerene has the opposition of this powerful organization, of many women who still remember his hostility to suffrage, and of the railroad brotherhoods whose antagonism he incurred by opposing the Plumb plan and supporting the Esch-Cummings act, making three formidable groups of voters which he must hurdle to beat Willis. If he wins in face of these handicaps he will become a rather superior leading possibility for the democratic nomination.

Whether it will be possible to reduce taxes materially in 1928 will depend mainly on the business activity of the country in the meantime. If prosperity continues unchecked and business continues to expand at the present rate business profits will be enormously increased for the calendar years 1926 and 1927 and the amount received from income taxes will be increased proportionately.

Reed Is Elected.

Although the progressive surplus for the current fiscal year is estimated at not more than $185,000,000 and no surplus is yet in sight for the 1928 fiscal year, it begins to look as if the most optimistic estimates of the expenditures of the government for this fiscal year.

REPUBLICANS AND COMMUNISTS CLASH IN CELEBRATION OF SEVENTH ANNIVERSARY OF CONSTITUTION.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.
Berlin, August 11.—(AP)—Many persons were injured and taken to hospitals tonight when republicans and communists clashed in a torchlight procession by the republicans in honor of the seventh anniversary of the adoption of the republican constitution.

It was necessary to call out a strong force of police before order was restored.

All Germany today observed the anniversary of the adoption of the republican constitution.

Chancellor Marx, speaking at special exercises in the reichstag, said that despite political differences among the German people, the conviction was growing that the growth of the republic was to be achieved through the foundations played by the Weimar republican administration.

Cheers for Fatherland.

The chancellor led the cheers for "the beloved German fatherland and the German nation united in a republic."

President von Hindenburg postponed his summer vacation in order to attend today's ceremony to show his loyalty to the republican constitution.

The monarch premier of Bavaria and the nationalist premier of Thuringia, however, declared that they would not be present at the exercises in their respective states.

Special exercises were held this evening in the state musical institute.

During the day patriotic programs were held in all the schools in Berlin and republican banners and the republican flag was displayed on all public buildings.

COOLIDGE SENDS HIS CONGRATULATIONS.

Washington, August 11.—(AP)—President Coolidge, in a message of congratulations to President von Hindenburg, on the 75th anniversary of the birth of the German republic, transmitted today, said:

"On this anniversary of the birth of the republic of Germany I extend to your excellency on behalf of the government of the United States and to my own name cordial congratulations and best wishes for the continued prosperity of Germany."

of placing Chief of Police James L. Beavers in complete charge of the department and giving him unqualified cooperation in administration of affairs of the department, the police committee of city council Wednesday night interpreted the change in rule No. 22 to mean that the chief is not required to visit every man on the force each week. Other routine matters also were considered at the session.

The committee changed the wording of the rule which required the chief to visit all members of the department on their beats at least once each week.

It was under a similar rule that the chief was placed on trial about two years ago and dismissed. He took the fight to the courts and was reinstated when the supreme court held that the rule was vague and indefinite.

The effect of the change which was made at the last regular meeting of the committee was to specify the visits and those who were to be visited.

In explaining why it was felt by the modification members of the committee unanimously agreed proper supervision is all it asks and stated that a visit to one officer on each of the three watches each week would meet requirements of the modified rule.

Barrett Explains Change.

Chief Beavers reported that he worked all day last Friday and spent the entire night in an effort to meet specific requirements of the rule.

It was at this juncture that Ellis Barrett, of the fifth ward, explained what was meant by the rule. He was author of the modified measure.

The rule as modified reads as follows:

"He (the chief of police) must pay visits to each watch at least once a week, said visits to cover outlying districts as well as close-in districts, that he will be able to know, of his own knowledge, that officers and men are performing their duty in a satisfactory manner. Cleanup of City
Will Be Pushed,
Jentzen Asserts

Atlanta property owners must begin cutting weeds and high grass on their premises by August 22 at the latest date, it was announced Wednesday by Chief John Jentzen, of the city sanitary department, who stated that the department will cooperate to the full extent of the law in the campaign of the Atlanta Woman's club to rid the city of unhealthy and unsightly rubbish.

The woman's organization's drive is being conducted under the leadership of Mrs. J. R. Little and has for its object the ridding of the city of high weeds and grass, rubbish and breeding places of mosquitoes and other pests which tend to spread diseases.

Announcement of the aggressive drive was made when it was learned that the six new trucks which the finance committee of council authorized Tuesday will be submitted to council Monday with a request that the order be rushed in order to have the new trucks ready for service in 12 days.

If property owners fail to cut the weeds when notified, the city sanitary forces will do it and charge it to the owners, Mr. Jentzen declared.

EARLY OPENING SEEN FOR 20 STATE BANKS

Early opening of approximately 20 banks throughout the state, members of the chain of which the Bankers' Trust company acted as fiscal agent, was seen Wednesday following a conference with representatives of approximately 50 banks by Solicitor General John A. Lovkin.

The Fulton county grand jury is investigating the affairs of the Bankers' Trust company, but no session of that body was held Wednesday. The next meeting of the jury will be Friday, it is stated.

At the liquidation offices of the state banking department Wednesday afternoon arrangements were practically completed for the reopening within the next two weeks of approximately 20 banks in the state that were forced to close their doors when the trust company went into the hands of receivership.

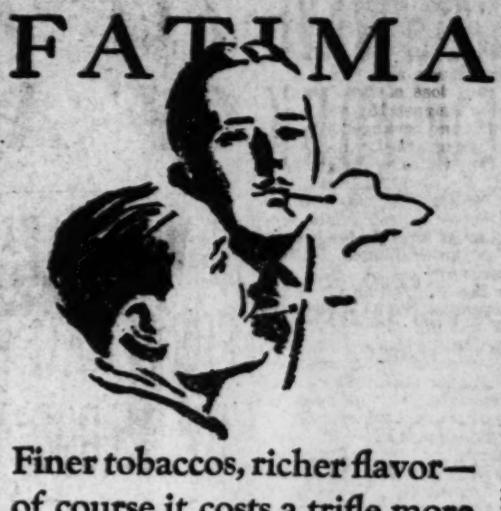

Reports from Milledgeville were to the effect that W. D. Manley, president of the Bankers' Trust company, was improvably ill in health and his condition showed a marked improvement during the past 24 hours. He is in Dr. Allen's sanitarium under the personal care of Dr. Edwin Allen, it is stated.

Question of Inter-Allied Debts Is Left to Commission for Probable Action in October.

Paris, August 11.—(P)—After having decided the fate of seven premiers and eight finance ministers in the course of a year, the French parliament adjourned this evening with Premier Poincaré "the cock of the walk." The adjournment will continue probably until the middle of October and leaves the question of the inter-allied debts to examination by specially appointed subcommittees of the chamber finance and foreign affairs committee during the two months respite.

Dariac, chairman of the chamber's financial subcommittee studying the debts, has been promised by Premier Poincaré the complete documents of the Washington and London debt accords, as well as all details regarding the original and subsequent negotiations of those engagements. These documents, at the same time, will be communicated to M. Franklin Bouillon, chairman of the subcommittee.

POLICE RULES ARE MODIFIED

Chief Beavers was fired under the original rule which is worded as follows:

"He (the chief of police) will be held responsible for the good order of the city and the general conduct of the officers and men of the police force. He will as often as possible pay a frequent visit at unusual hours to various portions of the city, that he may be able to know of his own knowledge that the officers and men are performing their duty."

New Ordinances Flavored.

Proposed ordinances requiring all bell boys and taxicab drivers to obtain permits and licenses to ply their trade, will go to council with favorable recommendation of the committee. Members were introduced in council and referred to the committee for hearings.

The proposal of Alderman William H. Hartfield that council must approve all requirements and reelections of officers dismissed from the police force after a proper hearing was deferred until after hearing. Sharp opposition developed and friends sought to postpone action.

Bailiffs of recorders' courts will submit to each meeting of the committee a list of all forfeited bonds in the future. Those left unpaid also will be included in order that proper steps to secure forfeitures may be taken.

Rules of discipline will be drawn up about members of the police force after a proper hearing was deferred until after hearing. Sharp opposition developed and friends sought to postpone action.

"The plan so thoroughly fitted in with the integrity of the law that the English themselves were quick to suggest a remedy for conditions which in fact did not exist," he said.

"There is nothing wrong with the English laws," he said. "I do not wish to give such an idea. The fault, if there is slackness, is with the colonial laws. Take the situation in the Bahamas, for example. The British are no more cognizant of local violations in the Bahamas than we would be in a port of the Philippines."

$3,700 IS FOUND ON BODY OF MAN TAKEN FROM RIVER

Augusta, Ga., August 11.—(P)—A wallet containing $3,700 was found on the person of Lawrence A. Obenschain, telegraph line construction foreman, who was drowned in the Savannah river here Monday afternoon, according to reports by persons present when the body was recovered Wednesday morning.

The money is said to have belonged to Obenschain, he being in the habit of carrying large sums with him. Officials of the Western Union Telegraph company confirmed the report that it was not the company's money.

The money was deposited in the vault of a local bank for safekeeping.

Obenschain's body will be shipped this afternoon to his former home, Mont Vale, Va., for burial.

"Powers had only a short time to serve and if he had cooperated with the authorities in the Donaldson case

he undoubtedly would have received favorable consideration in his parole," Sheriff Shadrack Lowry said.

Mr. Powers, who gave her address as 439 Courtland street when arrested by Lieutenant T. O. Sturdivant and A. G. Stone, city detectives, Monday, was given her release Wednesday after she had spent several hours Tuesday afternoon and night under guard in the office of Special Agent A. Boykin.

The solicitor refused to disclose the nature of the information secured from her but it is believed that he conducted the examination with the intention of finding out the haunts of Powers in a hope of making an early capture.

Judge Humphries received the card Wednesday morning and not Tuesday morning as was erroneously stated in an afternoon paper. The postmark showed that the card was cancelled at 10 o'clock Tuesday night at station "E" located at the corner of Georgia and Forsyth streets.

The message reads:

state for Powers, who failed to appear before it with his evidence in

Mayor Sims Attacks Ruling By Mayson on Expenditure Of City Funds on Park Site

Development of Candler Field, City Dairy Farm Classed With Proposed Peachtree Park Plans.

Major Walter A. Sims Wednesday took issue with City Attorney James L. Mayson, who ruled that expenditure of city funds in development of a city-owned site on Peachtree creek for park purposes would be illegal, and asked the legal adviser to distinguish in an official ruling the difference between the legality of appropriation of city funds for development of Candler air field, the city dairy farm and other projects on which city funds have been expended.

If it is illegal to spend city funds for development for any purpose outside the city, the Atlanta council already has spent about $500,000 in this manner, $100,000 of which has been expended in developing the city dairy and prison farm, which is located in DeKalb county, and on Candler field, which is also owned by the city, but is held by lease.

The mayor addressed a letter to Mr. Mayson asking for the official status of the Peachtree Memorial park project and a distinction between this and the other undertakings of the city on which money has been spent outside the city limits.

Mr. Mayson several days ago issued a statement in which he declared that a charter amendment would be necessary before the city could join with county officials and residents of the Peachtree creek section in establishing a mammoth memorial park in honor of Confederate veterans who made the supreme sacrifice in the memorable battle of Peachtree creek in the war between the states.

Behind Park Move.

"If one of these projects is illegal," said the mayor, "then it seems to me they are all illegal. No one of them is authorized specifically by the charter, but I am certain they should have the right to develop and improve property that it owns, whether inside or outside the limits. And it seems to me that a great recreational park, such as is proposed, should be equally as essential to the health of Atlanta as the present sewage disposal plant, the overflow from which is an actual menace to the health of that section."

In the case of Candler field, the city does not even own the property but holds it under a lease and option. This lease was drawn by the city attorney and the city has spent about $50,000 in the development of the field.

"In the case of the dairy and prison farm, the property is not even in DeKalb county, but the city owns it, and it costs more than $50,000 in its development."

I am simply asking the city attorney to define the difference between the legality of the development of these two projects and the proposed Peachtree creek park."

In asking for the ruling, the mayor placed himself solidly behind the proposal to form the nucleus of the work of the special park committee appointed to investigate the proposal.

Plan Inadequate.

"There could be a further thought to expand the Peachtree creek property into a great historical park, commemorating the gallant fight of our forefathers and furnishing another great center for healthful recreation."

According to figures presented to the special committee Tuesday, the present Peachtree creek disposal plant has a capacity of 8,000,000 gallons every 24 hours, and has been forced to handle approximately 10,000,000 gallons every 24 hours. This means that 2,000,000 gallons of untreated sewage is turned into Peachtree creek each day.

Former Senator Holt Smith is chairman of the special park committee. All members of the committee with the exception of Councilman John A. White, chairman of the park committee of city council, who was out of the city, were present at the meeting Tuesday.

He will support to the limit the plan to abandon the city's disposal plant on the site, which according to plans would form the nucleus of the new park development. The disposal unit would be combined with that of the Proctor street plant on the banks of the Chattahoochee river, the new plant now under construction for Atlanta's sewage needs for the next half century, according to plans.

Henderson Hallman, prominent Atlanta attorney, secretary of the Atlanta bond commission and propounder of the memorial park idea, declared that the air and expenditure of city funds in development of city-owned property is entirely legal. He declared that the disposal unit should be removed in order that it should not endanger the health and lives of Atlantans and citizens of Fulton county any longer, and pointed out that the section is retarding the growth of the Peachtree road section.

"The present sewage disposal plant," he said, "not only is a menace to health, because it cannot take care of the enormous volume of sewage poured into it daily, but it is regarding the growth of that entire section."

To enlarge it would be unthinkable, and it seems that the most logical step would be to abandon it and the Proctor street plant and to combine all sewage disposal facilities in a great plant on the banks of the Chattahoochee, where all the sewage can be treated properly before it goes into the river.

Brown-Talmadge Debate Arouses Much Interest

The second debate between Eugene Talmadge, of McRae, and J. J. Brown, commissioner of agriculture, will take place at noon today in Elberton, home town of Brown, and all indications point to a big and interested crowd.

In the first debate held at McRae last Wednesday, the question was challenged by Talmadge to discuss issues of the campaign in every political district but Brown declared that a debate in McRae, Talmadge's home town, in Elberton, Brown's home town, and a third in Atlanta, a small town, would give leaders all the opportunity that needed to discuss the issues between them.

Added interest may be given by the affair by the presence of Charles Stewart, of Atkinson, also a candidate, of the Spanish War Veterans next week and they will come to Atlanta for the debate.

They will ask the endorsement of the park proposition by the national encampment as a further persuasion to congress to adopt the park and endow it liberally.

SMALL BOY INJURED WHEN HIT BY AUTO

Samuel Croxton, small boy of 602 Central Avenue, was badly skinned and bruised Wednesday night when struck down by an automobile at South Pryor street and Georgia avenue. The boy refused to go to a hospital and requested Motorcycles Officers Hamilton and Richardson not to make him go.

According to the officers report the machine was driven by W. O. Price of 201 Cameron street, and the car was going south on Pryor street at a slow rate of speed.

With the primary only about four weeks distant it is probable that the third joint discussion between Talmadge and Brown will be held in Atlanta some time during the week of August 22.

C. D. KNIGHT QUILTS COUNCILMANIC RACE

Due to pressure of business affairs and the recent death of a member of his family, Councilman C. D. Knight, of the ninth ward, withdrew from race competition from the campaign on Wednesday. His entrance fee was paid several days ago by a group of friends.

Mr. Knight retires from the race with four years of service in city council.

VIADUCT INJUNCTION PETITION IS DENIED

Judge Samuel Sibley, of the federal court, Wednesday declined to grant a petition for injunction urged before him Tuesday in which Thomas B. Brady, agent of California, sought to restrain the city of Atlanta from selling bonds issued to construct viaducts over Central avenue and Pryor streets in Atlanta. The injunction was asked by Spence & Spence, attorneys, on the ground that the city had not made arrangements under its bond plan to pay adequate damages that might be inflicted on property owned by Mr. Brady, particularly the property he owned on Central avenue.

Attorneys for the petitioner have 30 days in which to complete an appeal and they announced Wednesday they would appeal the decision of Judge Sibley.

In his opinion handed down Wednesday morning, Judge Sibley denied all contentions of the petitioners. He ruled that the bond issue was valid, that the city had made arrangements to pay for all damages and that the constitutional rights of the petitioners as a non-resident were not denied him.

City Attorney James L. Mayson

said that the decision of the court virtually settles the question of validation of the bond issue.

Judge Sibley ruled that publication of the bond issue advertisement in the Fulton County Daily Report perfectly legal as that publication is a newspaper in the legal sense of the word. The petitioners had asserted that the Report is not a daily newspaper.

Other Action Planned.
Attorney George H. Spence, of the firm of Spence & Spence, representing Thomas B. Brady in the court move to halt the viaduct project, stated Wednesday night that "constitutional damage still is an issue" and that in his opinion the city will have to appropriate more money to take care of damages to property while it is said construction of the viaducts will cause.

Mr. Spence pointed out that when contracts are entered into for construction of the viaducts further action looking to recovery of damages will be instituted.

DIRECTORS NAMED FOR MOUNTAIN BODY

J. J. Haverty, Harold Hirsch and John Ashley Jones, for two years members of the board of directors of the Stone Mountain Memorial Association, have been elected members of the executive committee of that association. Their election to the committee comes as a reward of valuable services rendered the association and as an indication of the confidence in their willingness and ability to carry on the work.

Mr. Haverty, who is president of the Haverty Furniture company, is one of the best known patrons of art in the south. His collection of paintings and sculpture work is an example of the highest appreciation for the artistic. Harold Hirsch, member of the prominent law firm of Candler, Thompson & Hirsch, is recognized as one of the foremost civic workers in this region. He has been particularly active in encouraging educational development. John Ashley Jones has been interested in the Stone Mountain memorial since the date of that project's inception. He is a prominent insurance man, and commander of the Atlanta camp of the Sons of Confederate Veterans.

CAMP AND LINDLEY FAMILIES HAVE REUNION

Members of the Camp and Lindley families held their annual reunion at Grant park Wednesday, when several hundred assembled from all parts of the United States.

Since the first meeting of these families in 1898, about 15 years ago, the old and new members have gathered together every year on the second Wednesday in August, according to W. J. Camp, who has been chairman of the arrangements committee for more than 30 years. For the past five years these meetings have been held at Grant park, where the people have looked forward to the Camps and Lindleys as a permanent assemblage place. Many of the kinmen do not get to see each other except at these reunions, Mr. Camp said.

FITZGERALD CLUB BOYS VISIT ATHENS

Fitzgerald, Ga., August 11.—(Special)—County Agent C. T. Owens accompanied 14 club boys to Camp Williams, where they will spend a week in taking a short course in agriculture under the direction of the college. The Fitzgerald Lions' club, the chamber of commerce and the county commissioners contributed to the expenses of the trip, which was made in autos.

Stock for ready demand in this section. Jim DeLoach has been appointed southeastern district manager for the Atlanta branch. With him is a large staff of salesmen already well established in their respective territories throughout this region. They formerly worked out of the Milwaukee office but will now be directly connected with the Atlanta office. Montague Rubin, who has a wide experience in the hosiery field of the south, has been selected as office manager for the Atlanta branch. Mr. Rubin left Milwaukee for the Hosiery plant in Milwaukee, where he will confer with the officials regarding rearrangement of the Atlanta office stock.

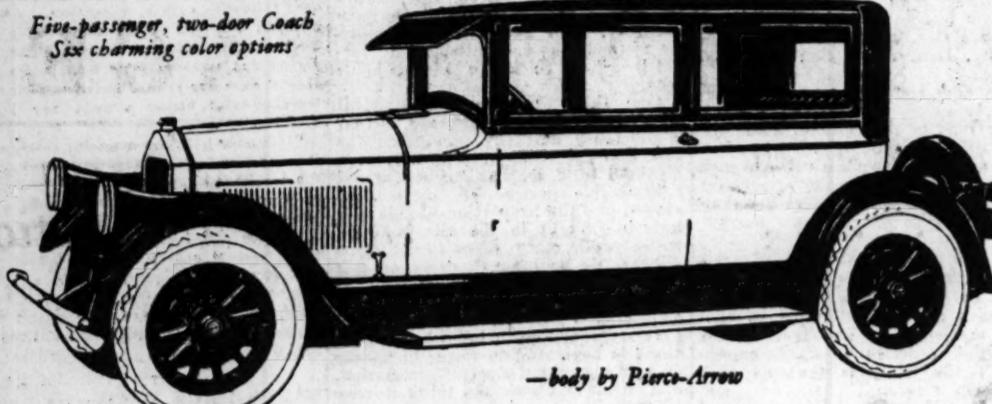

"Stock for the Atlanta branch will be put on a scientific basis, using general statistics to govern the size range of the hosiery section," the local manager stated. "We have found that since the southern business was turned over to us that the women of this section have feet 25 per cent smaller than those of the country as a whole. This has necessitated shifting of sizes in our stock to accommodate the unusual demand for sizes 8 1/2 and 9 1/2," Mr. Rubin stated.

A COMPLAINT by one of our customers about a charge for a long distance call may help you save money on your toll calls.

This subscriber has two boys away from home, and he calls them on the long distance telephone once a week for a friendly little chat.

Recently he waited until after 8:30 p. m. to place his call in order to secure the reduced night rate. Naturally he was surprised when he was billed at the person-to-person rate.

Inquiry developed the fact that he placed the call by name, asking for either one of his sons.

This was, of course, a person-to-person call, and was correctly billed, because the rate for person-to-person service is the same both day and night.

If this customer had told the operator he wished to make a station-to-station call, or if he had told her he wished to be connected with the distant telephone, it would have been a station-to-station call at the reduced rate.

We find that many who wait until 8:30 o'clock at night to get reduced rates are making person-to-person calls at the regular rate.

To make a station-to-station call you tell the operator the telephone number at the distant point. If you do not know the number, tell her the name or address under which it is listed. Do not ask to speak to a particular person.

We are anxious for our customers to have the benefit of the low rate for station-to-station calls and the further reduction at night.

Remember that the reduced night rate applies only to station-to-station calls.

Archbishop said that between the states of Michigan and Guanajuato, two Catholic priests and between 27 and 37 Catholic citizens were executed by the military authorities on August 1 and 2 on a charge of heading an uprising growing out of the religious situation.

The archbishop reported that the disturbances occurred in three towns in the states of Michoacan and Guanajuato.

A battle between soldiers and citizens lasted for a day in the town of Zahuan, Michoacan. The bishop estimated that probably about 50 persons were killed in the battle.

The other two towns where disturbances occurred were Acambayo and Irapuato, in the state of Guanajuato.

"After these troubles, Archbishop Ruiz y Flores reported, the states of Michoacan and Guanajuato became quiet. He said that he himself had fled to Mexico City, but was merely here to discuss matters with the episcopate.

"Let's get Al Smith out of the wood-pile," said Graves in the hard-fought political campaign which the state has witnessed in many years.

Now, the people of Alabama are allowed to take charge of the democratic party in Alabama, by naming a governor, it will be easy for the winner to hog-tie a delegation from Alabama for Al Smith in the next democratic convention.

He pledged the people of Alabama that if he is elected governor of Alabama, Al Smith would not be allowed to enter Alabama politics.

"I will not vote for Al Smith first, last or at any other time," declared Graves in his political literature distributed during the campaign.

Thus was checked the plan of the forces of North Carolina to march to Wilmington to join their expected British land and naval forces for a proposed invasion of North Carolina. Now, the British have been compelled to withdraw.

The victory very likely saved also the other southern colonies from invasion by the British. Learning of the defeat at the hands of Moore's Creek, Lord Cornwallis, Lord Clinton called a meeting from Wilmington to South Carolina, taking with them Josiah Martin, last royal governor of North Carolina, who had fled in terror on May 31, 1775, from Tryon palace, the colonial capital in New Bern, N. C.

C. E. STEWART SPEAKS AT CLARKESVILLE

Clarkesville, Ga., August 11.—(AP) Declaring that Georgia needs a business administration and not one dominated by machine politicians, working for self and not for the good of the people and of the state," Dr. L. G. Hardman, of Commerce, candidate for governor, addressed a small gathering at the county courthouse tonight.

Dr. Hardman declared that his record sustained the claim that he was a successful man, successful in his profession, successful in business, in banking, in manufacturing and in farming. He cited his record in the general assembly, where he served 10 years, pointing to legislation which he framed and sponsored as having been of great benefit to the people of the state.

The speaker declared that bonds should not be an issue in the campaign and asserted that the main issue was represented in the "need of the state to have a business administration, one of righteousness and justice."

He criticized some of the newspapers of the state for using what he termed misleading headlines in an endeavor to influence voters.

Dr. Hardman will speak at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning in Millen and will spend the remainder of the week in the first and tenth districts.

C. E. STEWART SPEAKS AT CLARKESVILLE

Clarkesville, Ga., August 11.—(AP) Charles E. Stewart, candidate for commissioner of agriculture, spoke here Tuesday evening to a fairly large crowd. His speech was along the line of the former speaker in the campaign. His record would have been larger except for the fact his coming had not been well advertised. His remarks were largely directed against what he termed the "J. J. Brown political machine." His speech seemed to be well accepted by the people and he was often applauded.

He was introduced by Honorable Sam Kinsey, of Cornelia, who also directed his remarks against what he termed, the "J. J. Brown political ring."

Mr. Snow polled only 5,564 votes in 7,000 precincts and Judge Allen was 20,000 votes behind Pomerene in 7,670 precincts.

Senator Frank B. Willis administered a drubbing to his seven opponents for the republican senatorial nomination. In 748 precincts he had gathered a total of 203,677 votes, while his closest opponent, Charles O. Hildebrand, of Wilmington, had only 49,784 votes.

The Cooper-Brown fight, one of the most spectacular in a primary election in years in Ohio, commanded chief interest tonight. There were a few contests in doubt through the state ticket. Heads of the republican ticket at the November election will be Cooper and James O. Mills. Columbus representative, who opposed to Governor Vic Donaghay, who rolled up an impressive vote, on the democratic ticket, and Earl D. Bloom, Bowling Green, former lieutenant governor.

Organization Men Wins.

Generally, organization candidates won on all tickets. The two women candidates, Mrs. Evelyn Frances Snow, Mt. Vernon, who sought the republican nomination for congress, and supreme court, Judge Florence B. Allen, Cleveland, who opposed former United States Senator Atlee Pomerene for the democratic nomination for the senate were badly defeated.

Mrs. Snow polled only 5,564 votes in 7,000 precincts and Judge Allen was 20,000 votes behind Pomerene in 7,670 precincts.

MARTINEAU LEADING TERRAL BY 12,875.

Little Rock, Ark., August 11.—(AP) Governor Terral was 12,875 votes behind Chancellor Martineau in tabulations of 1595 precincts of 2,000 reported in the state since yesterday's democratic primaries. The vote was Terral 75,449 and Martineau 88,324.

A total of 163,778 votes had been tabulated unofficially in the race for governor leaving approximately 45,000 yet to be accounted for, if the vote this year was up to that of two years ago when 207,000 votes were cast for governor.

Representative J. N. Tillman, in the third district, still retained a lead of 400 votes over Karl Greenshaw, his nearest opponent, with slightly more than half of the district reported. One hundred forty-four out of 281 precincts in the district gave Tillman 4,922; Greenshaw, 4,635, and McFerrin, 1,327.

In the fifth district, additional returns were received from 100 precincts, showing Tillman 1,000, Greenshaw 900, and McFerrin 300.

Showdown on Dempsey-Tunney Bout Set for Today

N. Y. Boxing Boards Plan Session Today To Settle Disputes

Brower Calls Meeting With Avowed Intention To Cut Red Tape Surrounding Proposed Dempsey-Tunney Battle in September.

By FRANK GETTY.

New York, August 11.—Jack Dempsey will "comply with the rules and regulations of the New York state athletic commission" at a special meeting of that body Thursday morning.

When the heavyweight champion has complied thus with the conditions imposed by Colonel John J. Phelan, chairman of the license committee, he will receive a license to box in this state.

This is the program mapped out by Tex Rickard, who has taken charge of the ludicrous three-ring circus which the ambiguous vacillation of the boxing board and the license committee has made of the preliminaries of the Dempsey-Tunney fight.

Rickard said Wednesday night he was confident everything would go through without a hitch and that the champion would be able to take the night boat up the river to his training camp within another 24 hours.

Rickard Knows. It is a good thing for those interested financially in this fight that Rickard seems to know what he is doing, for no one else seems to.

As a business proposition involving millions of dollars, the forthcoming heavyweight championship bout has been the most muddle and mismanaged affair on record. If the fight were to prove as ridiculous as the arrangements, a k.o. Gene would wear foot caps and belt each other with bladders while the referee danced the Charleston.

After conferring with Commissioner Muldoon of the boxing board, however, Rickard believes he can lead the whole flock of its bewilderedness. He and Gene and Dempsey will sit down before the athletic commission at 10 a.m.

Agreement Ready. An agreement indicating that the champion has agreed to defend his title against Gene Tunney next month will be added to four contracts signed by Dempsey for fights with Harry Wills. None of these contracts survived the inability of promoters to produce the required money. With Rickard and the agreement to meet Tunney, the case is quite the opposite.

Muldoon and George Brower, the commissioners who favor the Dempsey-Tunney fight, then are expected by Rickard to indicate their complete satisfaction with Dempsey.

After which it would seem to be up to Colonel Phelan to take favorable action on the champion's application for a license.

"I won't be there," Colonel Phelan told the United News Wednesday. "Let the athletic commission act independently. There will be no meeting of the license committee until after Dempsey has complied with the commission's rules. After that, we'll have to give Colonel Wear (the other member of the license committee) time to get here from Birmingham."

While Rickard spent a busy day with lawyers, Dempsey put in the morning at the office of the commission, office with contracts he has signed in the past few years calling for him to defend his championship against Harry Wills. Jack already has submitted three such contracts and another is in the mail on its way for the commission's perusal.

All the promoters are a smoke screen behind which James A. Farley and Colonel John J. Phelan are to escape from the wrath of those who favor the Senegambian as logical contender for the heavyweight title.

Stubborn to the end, Farley and Phelan have not again been letting the fight Tunney in this state. Now that Phelan has been made to realize that it would not be good business to drive the bout to Philadelphia, he is merely trying to make the about-face as easy for himself and Farley as possible.

Gunn Wins First Match on 19th Green at Asheville

Atlanta Star Comes From Behind To Win Over Veteran Player

Watts Wins First Match by Holing Long Putt on Extra Hole for Birdie Three—Remarkable Recoveries Mark Play.

Asheville, N. C., August 11.—(By the Associated Press).—Defeat of John Thamas, Birmingham medalist, by Henry Westall, Asheville, and a tense match between Watts Gunn, Atlanta, and Fred Laxton, Charlotte veteran, which the former won with a birdie on the extra hole featured first matches in the annual invitation tournament of Biltmore Forest Country club here today.

Thames, erratic on the first nine, turned two down to the local player and was racing only even on the home nine, that with a holed iron shot for an eagle two on a 385 yard hole.

Gunn got away to a bad start and found himself in almost constant trouble from which he made several spectacular recoveries. He had a birdie on the 11th, had the next and won the 15th to stand two and three from which inevitable position Laxton eased by until Gunn holed a long putt on the extra hole.

Nothing remarkable marked play through the record field of eleven flights. One 10 and 8 victory, and one hole up, broke the monotony of locker room gossip.

Winners in the upper flights were: Henry Westall, Asheville, defeated John Thamas, Birmingham, 2-1; Kayton Smith, Savannah, 3-2; Harry Tresscott, Charleston, 3-2; Harry Jones, Atlanta, defeated Stamford Webb, Asheville, 3-1; Jack Butler, Jacksonville, defeated Tom Henderson, Charlotte, 3-2; Watts Gunn, Atlanta, defeated Fred Laxton, Charlotte, 1 up in 19; Harry Eble, Asheville, defeated Vance Norfleet, Atlanta, 3-2; Fred Eason, Jacksonville, defeated Cy Strickler, Atlanta, 3-2; Bert Edwards, West Palm Beach, defeated W. Gordon McCabe, Charles-ton, 5-4.

Tomorrow Shibley plays young Kayton Smith, Harris Jones and Jack Butler lock horns. Watts Gunn takes on Harry Eble and Fred Eason meets Bert Edwards.

In the second flight G. C. Kirkland, Asheville, defeated D. W. B. Mason, Washington, D. C., 2 up.

Today, Asheville, defeated H. G. Seibels, Birmingham, 7-6; Billy Oliver, Valdosta, defeated 15-year-old Chester Brown, Asheville, 2-1, after turning two down; N. V. Porter, Charlotte, defeated 15-year-old Ernest Johnson, Cincinnati, 6-5; Herman Culper, Biltmore Forest, 2-1; Dave Black, Atlanta, defeated J. T. Swann, Tampa, 6-4; Frank Hood, won by default from J. C. Kirkpatrick, Nashville.

Linam Beats Thomas To Win Michalove Cup

The annual newspapermen's golf tourney is over and Douglas Linam of The Journal is winner of the Michalove cup and the Walter A. Sims' trophy, but though the play is ended and the scribes of Atlanta's "Fourth Estate" and allied organizations will shew their wood and iron for another year, the tournament will survive in memory as the most successful ever staged.

The generosity of merchants and other individuals in donating trophies and prizes for the tournament has added much to its success and the scribes have expressed their gratitude by turning out in greater numbers than ever before for the matches.

The prizes were presented to the winners in the four flights Wednesday afternoon at West End club by Dunbar Hair, chairman of the golf committee, assisted by Ed Danforth and Fuzzy Woodruff of the Georgian, and O. B. Keeler, of the Journal.

The West End Golf club added much to the success of the tournament by allowing the scribes to play over its course and this was done without thought of remuneration. The committee has decided, however, to present to the club a handsome silver trophy to be known as the Newsman trophy.

per trophy and to be used by the club in any way it desires.

Beside the first flight match which was won by Linam from Mike Thomas, of The Georgian, in a tight battle the winners of the flights in their order from two to nine are as follows:

Perkerson beat O'Brien; Caudill beat Basserville; Gregory beat Jones; Chandler beat Holliday; Long beat Clements; Bradley beat Winchell; Ottley beat Taylor; Byrd beat Britton.

Arthur Carson, of The Journal, won the low medalist prize, which was not fired by the Ansley hotel and was presented to him Wednesday afternoon by Frank Reynolds, of the com-mon pleas court.

SHIBE PLANS TO TEST LAW AGAINST GAME

Philadelphia, August 11.—(AP)—An injunction will be sought to prevent police interference with a baseball game the Philadelphia Americans propose playing at Shibe park on Sunday, August 22, to test the blue laws of 1914.

This was announced today by Charles G. Gardling, counsel for the Americans, at a press conference with Mayor Kendrick and City Solicitor Joseph P. Gaffney.

Mr. Kendrick informed Mr. Gardling he would use the full police power to prevent the playing of professional baseball here on the Sabbath. The American's case was based on a conflict between the opening of the sesquicentennial exposition, which he held to be an educational and patriotic project, and the playing of professional baseball on Sunday.

Announcement that the ball game was being considered was made by Shibe shortly after an injunction restraining the opening of the sequel on Sundays was denied by the common pleas court.

German To Try To Top Record Of Miss Ederle

Boulogne, August 11.—(AP)—Spurred by the feat of Gertrude Ederle in swimming the English Channel in 14 hours and 31 minutes, a German swimmer named Vorkeroff has arrived at Calais with the avowed purpose of swimming the channel in 12 hours.

With Mme. Jane Sion, of France, and Omer Perrault, of Canada, forced to quit their attempt yesterday morning, the turbulent stretch of water today was free of the crush of swimmers which has challenged it in the past few days. Heavy seas and rain squalls compelled the two swimmers to abandon their attempt.

Miss Clarebelle Bennett, of New Orleans, who came within twelve feet of swimming the channel last week, plans to start on her second attempt Sunday. Miss Lillian Channon, of Baltimore, who feels that she is in fit condition to beat Miss Ederle's record, hopes to start on Monday.

Medalist Loses In Junior Meet

Chicago, August 11.—(AP)—Art Tveraa, of Minneapolis, medalist with a 73 in the qualifying round, was eliminated yesterday from the western junior tournament by Gibson Dunlap, of Chicago, 3 and 2.

Donald Carrick, of Toronto, former Canadian amateur champion, was put out of the play at the nineteenth hole by Sam Alpert, of Chicago.

A. Carrick, Toronto, Canada, defeated H. U. Juldeison, of Chicago, 5 and 4.

William Mason, LaSalle, Ill., went the second round by upsetting Andrew Kucela, of Elkhart, Ind., 5 and 4.

'Ma' To Remain in Fight For Texas Governorship; Anti-Klan Issue Planned

Miriam Declares Dan Moody Never Really Accepted Her Challenge and Refuses to Quit.

Austin, Texas, August 11.—(P) Grounded on the proposition that the acceptance of a challenge made by Jim is not acceptance of a challenge by the Klan, Miriam A. Ferguson, wife of Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, for the governorship of Texas, was rechristened today in the garments it wore two years ago.

After two days of silence as to her plans, following the rejection of her name on the run-off primary ballot by the state democratic executive committee Monday, she plunged full tilt today into all the turmoil of political affray, with the battle cry of anti-Klanism uppermost and her promise to quit thrown overboard by a contention that Attorney General Dan Moody, her opponent, never really accepted her challenge.

Refuses To Quit.

Declaring she was in the race with all her heart, she issued a statement arguing herself free of all promises to quit, and laying down the gauge of battle to Moody, whom she charged is supported by the Ku Klux Klan. The politician remarked that the statement unmocked of the old-time Ferguson political philosophy and the fighting method that has thrown the state into heated fights on many an occasion before this.

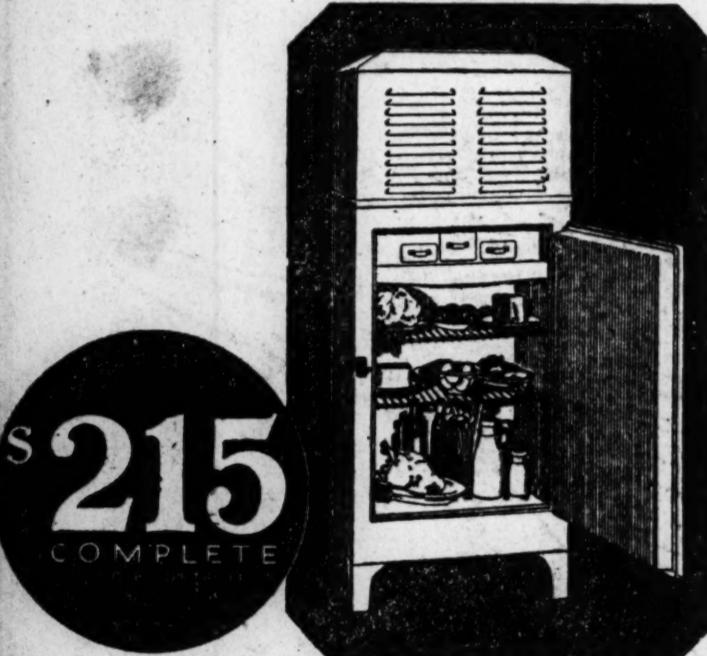

As the announcement seeped over the state, the reaction began to appear in the form of replies from Moody's followers, from members of the Klan who were mentioned in the statement, and from others interested in what appears will be the classic political tourney centering about the Fergusons.

Mrs. Ferguson won her office two

ILLINOIS PRIMARY LAW HELD VOID

Dixon, Ill., August 11.—The Illinois primary law has been knocked out by a decision of the circuit court here.

Invalidation of the law has no bearing on the huge "slush fund" disclosures of the senate committee meeting here last month, but unless the court's decision is reversed by a higher tribunal Illinois may have to devise a new method of nominating candidates.

Three times before in the history of Illinois the state primary law has been nullified by court decisions. In each previous instance the legislature has enacted a new law, eliminating the technicalities which were involved.

"It looks like Sunday closing," said Dr. C. Everett Field, director of the radium institute of New York. Only about four percent of radium is required for the transformation.

This remarkable phenomenon is one of the newest possibilities of radium.

The question was raised in a suit brought by William J. McAlpine, of Dixon, especially designed to test the primary law. He charged that after redistricting two precincts in Dixon it was impossible for one man to represent and that this took from the voters their proper representation.

The suit pointed out that redistricting might be resorted to by the political party in power in any part of the state thus nullifying the whole primary vote.

In rendering their decision, the three judges of the circuit court, William J. Emerson, Harry A. Heer and Harry Edwards, held that the primary vote in Lee county, where the suit was filed, was invalid. The law said the unanimous decision violates the state's federal election laws.

An appeal will be taken to the state supreme court, according to Mark Seller, local state's attorney.

Springfield, Ill., August 11.—(AP)—The invalidation of the Illinois primary law by the circuit court at Dixon was not altogether unexpected at the state capitol.

The Illinois Manufacturers' association has been one of the principal opponents of the present law and of the entire primary system. In a circular issued recently the association gave the following as its major objections to the law:

1. That it is too democratic, too much like a town meeting.

2. That it is so expensive as to eliminate all save wealthy men from seeking nominations.

3. That it taxes the public heavily for maintaining expensive political organizations.

Radium To Turn Yellow Diamonds Into Blue-White

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

New York, August 11.—A yellow diamond worth about $100 can be turned quickly into a blue-white diamond worth about $700 by exposure to radium worth about $8,000, according to Dr. C. Everett Field, director of the radium institute of New York.

Only about four percent of radium is required for the transformation.

The question was raised in a suit brought by William J. McAlpine, of Dixon, especially designed to test the primary law. He charged that after redistricting two precincts in Dixon it was impossible for one man to represent and that this took from the voters their proper representation.

The suit pointed out that redistricting might be resorted to by the political party in power in any part of the state thus nullifying the whole primary vote.

In rendering their decision, the three judges of the circuit court, William J. Emerson, Harry A. Heer and Harry Edwards, held that the primary vote in Lee county, where the suit was filed, was invalid. The law said the unanimous decision violates the state's federal election laws.

An appeal will be taken to the state supreme court, according to Mark Seller, local state's attorney.

Springfield, Ill., August 11.—(AP)—The invalidation of the Illinois primary law by the circuit court at Dixon was not altogether unexpected at the state capitol.

The Illinois Manufacturers' association has been one of the principal opponents of the present law and of the entire primary system. In a circular issued recently the association gave the following as its major objections to the law:

1. That it is too democratic, too much like a town meeting.

2. That it is so expensive as to eliminate all save wealthy men from seeking nominations.

3. That it taxes the public heavily for maintaining expensive political organizations.

Sesqui Opening On Sunday Held Illegal by Judge

Philadelphia, August 11.—(AP)—Judge Edwin O. Lewis handed down a decision in common pleas court today holding that the opening of the sesquicentennial exposition gates on Sunday for an admission fee is unlawful. In Pennsylvania, he said, the operation of anything not necessary on the Sabbath, for which an admission fee is charged, is worldly employment and contrary to the law.

"It looks like Sunday closing," said Mr. Lewis. "I will confer with the city attorney tomorrow to decide our future course in the matter of operating the exposition on Sunday."

Other points in Judge Lewis' decision were that operation of the exposition should not be a worldly employment or business and hence unlawful on the Sabbath.

The Sunday free entertainment at the exposition also was declared to be illegal, the court holding that the operation of amusements forming a gladiatorial show is not necessary on the Sabbath.

Nine gangsters were arrested and released and ten others are sought in connection with recent killings and the Boulevard battle.

Vigilance over the gang districts was strengthened following the killing last night of Louis "Big" Smith, New York gunner, who was shot to death as he stood on a street corner.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict that Smith met his death by bullets fired by an unknown assailant. Mrs. Evelyn Smith, his wife, told the jury that Smith expected to be killed.

Police information has it that the associates of Dion O'Banion are making a new bid for the liquor-running rights of the city and hope to attain the heights their noted leader once held—that of dishing out privileges and territories of dispensation of alcohol to bar and other liquor houses.

A Unique Soap

Created by experts for one purpose only—to safeguard your complexion

That's why, on expert advice, thousands are gaining the charm of natural loveliness through this simple daily rule in skin care

Before Palmolive same women were told, "use no soap on your faces." For soaps then were judged too harsh.

Then came this famous beauty soap. A soap made by experts in skin care for one purpose only—to guard youth and charm. A soap made to be used freely, lavishly on the skin.

It changed the beauty situation throughout the world. It supplanted artificial beauty methods by the score. World's authorities widely urge it. The thousands of pretty skins you see today are largely due to it.

Wash, launder, scrub, with any soap you wish; but when beauty is at stake, take care.

This simple daily rule to natural skin beauty

Wash your face gently with Palmolive Soap, massaging it softly into the skin. Rinse thoroughly, first with warm water, then with cold. If your skin is inclined to dry, apply a touch of good cold cream—that is all.

Do this regularly, and particularly in the evening. Use powder and rouge if you wish. But never leave them on over night. They clog the pores, often enlarge them. Blackheads and disfigurements often follow. They must be washed away.

Get real Palmolive

Do not use ordinary soaps in the treatment given above. Do not think any green soap, or represented as of palm and olive oils, is the same as Palmolive.

It costs but 10c the cake!—say that millions let it do for their bodies what it does for their faces. Obtain Palmolive today. Then note what an amazing difference one week makes. The Palmolive Company (Del. Corp.), Chicago, Illinois.

The Soul of the salad

Just as the dressing is the soul of the salad, so the vinegar is the soul of the dressing.

Vinegar, at its best, should be more than simply a sour taste—it should be flavor, so that it will not only impart a goodness of its own, but also bring out the fine flavor of every food it touches.

Heinz Vinegars are flavor because they are made from the finest ingredients and then aged naturally for over a year in wood. Long aging gives them a mellowness, aroma and body which quickly prepared vinegar cannot have. You cannot hurry good vinegar along.

Bishop's Plan Fails To Settle British Strike

Washington, August 11.—(AP)—The aviation division of the department of commerce was launched officially today with the induction into office of the new assistant secretary for aviation, William P. MacCracken, Jr., of Chicago, and the taking over of an airplane from the postoffice department.

The airplane, a DeHaviland, was turned over to the commerce department at its landing field at College Park, Md. It will be used chiefly in experimental work in the perfection of radio beacon signals developed by the army, navy and bureau of standards. One or two other planes may be acquired by the department later as needed.

The department plans to establish radio beacon towers at airports throughout the country through which a continuous series of signals will be sent along the airways as guides to fliers. The signals are to be sent by earphones but these are expected to be replaced by a device being developed by the bureau of standards.

The new instrument will be provided with a needle which, controlled by the radio signals, will show when the plane is off its course.

"The miners' executives will take no further action until district leaders decide Monday on our future course," said Cook's statement, which explained that the executives offered no excuses for proposing the "bishops' plan."

Army Ace Dies When Parachute Fails To Open

Dayton, Ohio, August 11.—(AP)—The brilliant career of an army ace, Lieutenant E. H. Barksdale, who was credited with having bagged half a dozen airplanes during the world war, was brought to a tragic end by a hair, was ended at McCook here today when he jumped from his plane and his parachute failed to open.

Shot down from a high altitude and wounded during the world war, Lieutenant Barksdale merely scolded when death reached out to him. Once again he grimaced when his motor failed and he was forced to jump.

Today necessity again demanded that he jump. While more than 1,000 feet from the air, in full view of F. Trubee Davison, assistant secretary of war, in charge of aviation, his plane went into a tail spin.

Apparently realizing he would be unable to right the plane, Lieutenant Barksdale jumped. His parachute caught in the fuselage and the plane swung over and over and the body of the officer was torn to shreds in the air. Thus, within 100 feet of the ground, his parachute became loosened—the ropes snared in two—and the lieutenant was hurled to the ground. He was killed instantly.

Barksdale entered the army air service soon after war was declared and at one time he was sent to France.

During his service with the expeditionary force he was officially credited with having bagged four planes, while unofficial records say he brought down seven.

Barksdale was only stationed here temporarily. His assignment called for him to test planes and new devices with which the government hoped to make the air safe for its fliers. It was during one of these tests today that he met death.

PYTHIANS PLAN CHARITY WORK AMONG LEPROERS

Chicago, August 11.—(AP)—Eradication of leprosy was placed before the supreme lodge of the Knights of Pythias today as the "great supreme objective" while Pythian Knighthood might labor—something worth while in its scope, and something philanthropic.

Under a resolution, which was referred to a committee, the order would interest itself in the leper colony on Culion Island, Philippine Islands. It was there that Frank G. Stevens, Pythian grand master, had undertaken, would be in the nature of a memorial to him.

Under the resolution an assessment of $1 each for two years would be levied upon the membership which now numbers 1,000,000. It would provide further that if the eradication of leprosy be adopted as the Pythians' immediate high aim, congress should be urged to appropriate $5,000,000 with which the eradication could be completed. An appropriation of $25,000 to be spent in educational work against leprosy, also is mentioned.

TWO HOMES MADE HAPPY

By Women Who Used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I think it is the most wonderful medicine I ever tried," is the statement made by Mrs. Goldie Shoup of May View, Illinois. She declares that after taking the compound she is in better health than before.

Mrs. J. Storms of 29 Lane Street, Paterson, N. J., says: "I can not speak too highly of your medicine and I recommend it to all my friends."

These statements were taken from two enthusiastic letters which tell of the help that has been received from using the Vegetable Compound. Both Mrs. Shoup and Mrs. Storms were in a run-down condition which caused them much unhappiness. When women are suffering from lack of strength and from weakness in their own life and that of their family is affected. When they feel well and strong and are able to do their housework easily, happy homes are the result.

Chapped Knees Will Be Popular In U. S. This Fall

New York, August 11.—Chapped knees are going to be popular this fall.

At least that is the first reaction of a mere male after gazing at the models, displaying their colorful styles of the coming season at the National Garment Retailers' association in the grand ballroom of Hotel Commodore.

For the skirts were very, very short.

Other tips picked up by the observer were:

The waistline is going to land below the hips if it lands at all.

Nude visionette vests with gunmetal buttons will be featured.

The flapper silhouette has joined the hoop skirt in the discard.

White monkey fur for trimming is just the thing.

Four new colors predominate:

Neptune, a light water-green; romance, a rose coral; autumn, a golden brown; and gypsey, a deep wine shade.

These styles are authentic, the association said, because 7,000 firms have accepted them as the "prevailing mode for fall."

POISON DOSE FATAL TO MRS. W. L. BEASLEY

Sitting in the bedroom of the home at 479 South Boulevard, Mrs. W. L. Beasley, 58 years of age, ended her own life Wednesday afternoon, according to hospital records, by drinking poison.

Mrs. Beasley is said to have phoned her husband after she took the poison and he summoned an ambulance. She was taken to Grady hospital but died shortly after reaching the hospital. So far as could be learned no note or other explanation was left by Mrs. Beasley, giving any reason for her action, police said. The body was removed to the chapel of Greenberg & Bond pending funeral arrangements.

Besides her husband, William L. Beasley, she survived by four sons,

THE GUMPS—MOVING DAY

The Misty Pathway

By FLORENCE RIDDELL

INSTALLMENT XVI.
A STRAIN ON FRIENDSHIP.

Richenda Peterson, though naturally generous, had Scottish blood in her veins and once or twice that blood had hinted to her that Mrs. Davenant was imposing upon her. Of course, Lucille was delightfully careless.

"O, Dickie darling," she would say, "I must square up with you!" But somehow she rarely did square up and even then she forgot quite sixty per cent of her indebtedness and the sums were so various and so small that Richenda could never quite bring herself to mention them.

Nevertheless, there had been that little matter of the five guineas Jumper had worn that Jumper several times. She seemed to have forgotten the fact that she had not repaid Richenda the price of it. And there was the scarlet sunshade as well, and there would have been an ivory necklace, too, but, unfortunately, Richenda had begun to develop East African memory and leave her purse behind as well.

She couldn't bring herself to ask for repayment of these odd sums. It was weak, of course, but she hated the awkwardness of the whole position. It was much easier to be forgetful as well.

And, of course, Lucille was always talking about paying up—but somehow she never quite got there. And Richenda who, in most unbusiness-like manner, did not keep account of what she spent, had begun to be decidedly hazy as to exactly how much Mrs. Davenant really did owe her.

Occasionally she pulled herself up with a jerk. Her money seemed to be going very fast. Five thousand pounds had appeared a tremendous amount back in England, but out here . . . Richenda's thoughts became disturbed. No—she didn't think Lucille quite played the game.

She looked at the little round face before her now.

"You see, dear, it's awfully awkward," soft tones assured her. "Most of my income came from Auntie Joan and now I shan't get a cent until the estate is cleared up and settled. Then, of course, I'll get a tremendous lot. But these solicitor men never will hurry. It'll take quite three months . . ."

"Dick, I'm a hysterical beast."

"Eight," said Richenda, who knew something about these things. "O!" Mrs. Davenant gave a cry of dismay. "Surely not so long as that!"

"At the very least!"

"But what on earth shall I do? It's frightfully awkward. Of course, Brett would help. But—you know, Dickie, one does feel rather dreadful if one borrows from a man. Besides, I'm not at all sure the poor darling has much to lend. Now if . . ." she paused and the silence held a definite question.

Richenda made no movement.

"And there's a beastly bill to meet, too—rather a big one . . ."

Richenda knitted her black brows. "I'll lend you twenty-five pounds, Mrs. Davenant," she began, and instantly wished she had used the Christian name. To suddenly address Lucille by her married title was, perhaps, a little gauche.

But the other was openly laughing now.

"Twenty-five pounds! Dickie, tear, it won't keep me for three days! You know that well enough, Darling"—Richenda noted that above the honed words her eyes were narrow—"darling, this bill alone is for fifteen hundred."

Richenda started. "Lucille," she said then, "just how much are you asking me to lend you?"

Mrs. Davenant hesitated a moment, launched her thunderbolt with studied coolness.

"Two thousand pounds," she said.

Richenda herself laughed then. "I think," she said, "you must know quite well how utterly absurd such a proposition is. I'm sorry enough, Lucille, that you put me in the abominable position of having to say 'no' to you. Nevertheless . . ."

The next quarter of an hour was a very unhappy one indeed for Richenda. Lucille had fumed a little, pleaded. She seemed to trade a great deal on the close but short friendship that was between them.

But Richenda quietly held her own ground.

"There is your mink coat," she said, "and your pearls as well, the emerald ring, the gold mounted dressing case. Why, you'd get at least a hundred pounds out of that new squirrel cloak! And, you know, Lucille, if your aunt's will is all in your favor, the solicitors will surely give you some sort of advance on it. Besides, weren't you telling me only the other day that you had stored a new tire in England to await your return home? Cable the people to sell it for you. Perhaps Mr. Fairways and I can settle your hotel bill together for a week or so."

That was the precise moment when Lucille Davenant most undiplomatically lost her temper and said unpardonable things. She was sorry enough five minutes later. But that was just five minutes too late. Richenda had seen a new Lucille Davenant—a Lucille with the cloak of gay carelessness fallen away, the real Lucille.

And Richenda Peterson was shocked to the very soul.

Lucille was almost groveling in apologies now. But somehow those very apologies struck a false note. Richenda wanted to get away from the hard, close set blue eyes. She felt hurt—shaken—uncertain of herself. She escaped to her own room at length and stood for a moment gazing into the mirror by the window.

"It is a lie," she addressed the reflection. "There wasn't any Aunt Joan! That woman is crooked. She meant to use me. She thought Richenda Peterson was a soft little tenderfoot who could be led by the nose. She has learned better now and she doesn't like it." A satisfied laugh broke from her lips. "She's trying to use Brett Fairways, too. I wonder if he sees it. Men are less suspicious than women."

"I wonder what I ought to do now. Cut away from them and leave him in her clutches?"

"No—no—no—I don't quite think . . ."

No, most decidedly she didn't want to leave Fairways in Mrs. Davenant's grip. The great, big, trusting baby! It would be rather cruel. Then it suddenly struck her that had Brett Fairways been any other man she might not have felt this keen desire to remain in the company of these two.

She . . . yes, she liked Brett. Liked him rather a lot. Suddenly she found herself wondering just how much she liked him. The answer was disturbing.

Then she was back to the old question. Was this man whose face she had seen in her dreams going to play any real big part in her life? She'd stay the course and see. She hoped that Lucille would not make that impossible now.

Brett honey could not have been sweeter than Mrs. Davenant.

"Dick—I'm a hysterical beast," she said. "Darling, I grovel in the dust at your feet. I was nerves—outrageous nerves! Dickie, I'd better fess at once to you. I do have these wretched outbreaks sometimes and then I say the most awful things to those I love the best." She dabbed a scrap of cambric into one eye and gave a little sniff. "Of course, dear, I was just worried to death! Dickie, I ought never to have asked you a thing like that. It put you in a beastly position. I—I didn't realize. You see I've always had such lots of money, it seemed the weet-sum to me. I was at my wits' ends just then. Dickie—scared stiff—sort of felt myself 'on the rocks,' " She sighed, then suddenly brightened. "But, of course, you are right. The solicitor people are sure to advance me whatever I want. I'll cable today. I'll never speak of money to you again, darling, if you'll only forget my silly tantrum and be friends."

POLICE RELEASE
BOY WITH CHAIN
AROUND HIS NECK

Newark, N. J., August 11.—(AP)—Shackled daily for months with a heavy chain about his neck, 8-year-old Salvatore Rossetti, one of 10 children of Mr. and Mrs. Luigi Rossetti, was freed today when neighbors reported his imprisonment to police. The lad, said by his parents to be unseizable, was chained every day to an old bootblack stand in the rear of his home, neighbors said.

After his release the boy fled and he could not be found.

Mrs. Rossetti, police said, admitted chaining the boy "to keep him from running away."

The boy, three and one-half feet long, was padlocked about the boy's neck and nailed to the bootblack stand.

Even that failed to keep him fast, Mrs. Rossetti said, as he picked or broke several padlocks. When detectives removed the chain the boy wriggled to his credit.

gives from their grasp and scampered away.

The boy's father, a laborer, locked his son's shackles each morning and unfastened them at night.

SPARTA MAN SAYS
HE'S NEVER TAKEN RIDE ON TRAIN

Sparta, Ga., August 11.—(Special)—Alfred Johnson, 53-year-old farmer living a few miles from Sparta, announced here yesterday that he had never ridden on a railroad train and had never been out of Hancock county but once in his life—that was on an automobile trip to Eatonton several months ago.

Johnson comes from a family of 21 children and has 12 grandchildren of his own. His father and mother have 123 grandchildren and a number of great-grandchildren.

He says he has no desire to "ride the shiny rails" and that he probably will complete his span of life with record to his credit.

THOMASVILLE DANCES ATTRACT ATTENTION

Thomasville, Ga., August 11.—(Special)—A unique form of entertainment that has attracted much attention are the old-fashioned square dances that are given on Broad street here every Thursday night, which draw large crowds from the country and nearby towns. The dances were inaugurated by Anna Bottoms, a well-known citizen, and were at first given in the tobacco warehouse, but since the opening of the season have been changed to Broad street, where a space is roped off for the dancers.

To the young people of Thomasville the square dance of their forefathers is practically unknown, but it is still popular in the country districts, and the participants come into town every Thursday night and apparently enjoy the dances.

The music is furnished by an orchestra of old-time fiddlers, and large gathertings gather to see the dancing and enjoy the music.

PRICE REACTIONARY AT NEW ORLEANS

New Orleans, La., August 11.—(AP) The cotton market was fairly active today but prices were held off from the start and the trend of value was downward most of the session. The opening was at a shade lower prices despite favorable cables and price continued to ease off in anticipation of a favorable weekly weather report, hence at the end of the first hour the price level was 11 to 13 points below yesterday's close.

The market opened steady at a decline of 2 to 5 points under liquidation, local and southern selling which appeared to be inspired by reactionary cable from Liverpool and favorable view of the early weather news.

Early offerings were rather readily absorbed at declines of some 10 to 12 points from yesterday's closing quotations and some trade buying was reported as well as covering.

Selling was more moderate and aggressive after the report of the weekly crop review by the weather bureau, however, and prices declined rapidly around midday. The weekly review evidently made a very favorable impression non-sentimental and the gossip was that lines were being updated on expectation that the mid-August report would show a moderate increase in the crop indication as compared with the August 1 figures.

Complaints of shedding in the southwest and of increased insect activity were received, but evidently failed to create much fresh buying and prices reached the lowest levels since the publication of the g.v.m. crop report on Monday, October 10, 1929, to 16.30 and January 16, 16.22, making net decline of about 48 to 58 points on the more active positions.

Offerings then tapered off as if the liquidation of long accounts had pretty well run its course and there were moderate rallies from the lowest on come-through buying. The market reports of rains in the eastern belt including heavy rains at Atlanta. Final prices showed rallies of some 9 to 11 points from the lowest.

Private cable advice received in the trade from Japan during the afternoon said that Japanese purchases of new crop cotton so far amounted to about 340,000 bales and that the market in China might be reduced 15 per cent with the crop condition unfavorable.

Exports today 29,752, making 85,

072 for this season. Port receipts 14,408. U. S. port stock 652,965.

London Cotton Conference
Fails To Adopt Standards
On World Cotton Staples

American Officials, How-ever, Are Confident Some Action Will Be Taken at Washington Conference feeling that with the present grade and color agreements working smoothly it would be wise to go a step further and adopt standards for the length of cotton fiber. To the department of agriculture recently invited representatives of the various European and American cotton associations to consider the question.

The meeting today was attended by 33 cotton men, including a delegation of nine from the United States representing the American Cotton Shippers' association and five representatives of the department of agriculture.

Mr. Tenny, who headed the agricultural department forces, in a long address reviewed the whole situation and urged the need for fixing standards with the outcome.

The meeting was called at the initiative of the United States department of agriculture because of the feeling that with the present grade and color of cotton staples will be held in Washington in 1927 and it is not impossible today's subject will be brought up again at that time.

The European associations represented at the meeting here today were the Liverpool and Manchester Cotton Associations, the federation of major cotton spinners and representatives from France, Belgium, Bremen, Havre, Boulogne, Ghent and Rotterdam associations.

It was felt that a step of this importance was hardly to be achieved as the result of the first meeting, but hopefulness was expressed, despite the negative outcome of today's session, that useful results would be achieved ultimately.

The next meeting, on grade and color of cotton staples, will be held in Washington in 1927 and it is not impossible today's subject will be brought up again at that time.

CHEMIST MAKES PEACE

Williamstown, Mass., August 11.—(AP)—The chemist was pictured as the great peace-maker at the Institute of Politics today. "Many wars in the past," said Dr. John Teeple, treasurer of the American Chemical Society, "have been waged for the possession of land, and the land was commonly wanted because it produced certain raw materials that seemed absolutely necessary."

The chemist's insistence in his insistence that specific raw materials are less and less necessary each year to supply the world's needs, and so each year he reduces the cause of friction among nations."

Dr. C. L. Parsons, secretary of the chemical society, expressed the opinion that the time would come when chemistry would be the controlling factor in the list of nations "in the future," he said. "It will be the nation which most thoroughly utilizes its chemical personnel that will control the world's affairs rather than the one that has the greatest resources of the present raw materials within its borders."

Rule took occasion to report on crop conditions as he has found them in the country and to repeat suggestions he has made to officials of the department of agriculture on technical matters involved in the setting up within the department of a separate division of cooperative marketing.

President Coolidge found time in the early afternoon to go to the footbridge over the canal on Lake Sogod with General Lord and try for pike. The wind was from the wrong direction, however, for good fishing and although he had two strikes, he landed no fish.

HOPE IS STRONG FOR RECOVERY OF "COIN" HARVEY

Rogers, Ark., August 11.—(AP)—Hope for the recovery of W. H. ("Coin") Harvey was strengthened today with the announcement by attending physicians that his condition was improved. He has been suffering from blood clots.

Aviator Welcomed.

Sydney, New South Wales, August 11.—(AP)—U. S. Cobham was received with great enthusiasm one his arrival here today on his flight from London to Melbourne and return. The crowds broke through the barriers in attempts to congratulate the aviator. Government officials presented to him an illuminated address. Cobham said that so far he had a delightful flight under ideal conditions.

ST. MARY'S CANNING FACTORY TO OPEN SOON

St. Mary's, Ga., August 11.—(Special)—The St. Mary's Canning factory will open in the early fall. It will be under the management of Clyde Taylor, of Brunswick. The St. Mary's fleet of shrimp boats are making good catches since the opening of the inland water season, and signs are promising for a good fall run.

SALES CHECK RALLY ON CURB MARKET

New York, August 11.—(AP)—Heavy buying by professional traders just before the close of today's curb market checked a promising rally, and brought the market to a standstill in the early part of the session.

Exports today 29,752, making 85,

072 for this season. Port receipts 14,408. U. S. port stock 652,965.

LEGION TO MARCH TO PARIS IN 1927

Columbia, August 11.—(P)—Plans for the American Legion convention in Paris in September, 1927, are not disturbed by conditions in France. Officials of the Legion department say disturbances attending France's financial difficulties have impaired the good will between the nations to the extent of threatening the plans for a Paris reunion. "Our legionaries will be 30,000 members," said W. E. Elder, chairman of the France convention committee, in denying rumors which have been current to some extent that the legion was giving up its plan for the second A. E. F. meet.

Assurance that the plans are going forward has been received here by S. L. Latimer, Jr., of Columbia, convention officer for South Carolina.

Mr. Elder gave assurance that the plans for the movement of 30,000 veterans to France will go forward without delay. He said he had received an official invitation from former Premier Briand to come to Paris, and that the French foreign office has placed in operation a special bureau to facilitate the handling of the convention in France. That the pilgrimage to Paris in 1927 will do much to renew the friendly relations of America and her ally in the world.

The opinion of John J. Wickes, Jr., national travel director, who returned from Paris July 21, with first hand information as to conditions there, "When I mentioned the American Legion convention, every Frenchman became most cordial," Mr. Wickes said in discussing his reception in France.

"Our legionaries will be 30,000 ambassadors of good will," said Mr. Elder in his communication to Mr. Latimer.

"The fact that a few irresponsible persons in Paris have taken advantage of the fact will not affect our program. We have a cordial invitation from former Premier Briand to come to Paris. The French foreign office has a special bureau which votes itself off to carrying out the arrangements incident to moving, feeding and housing 30,000 men."

The railroads of France have granted us a 50 per cent reduction in railroad rates, as has Belgium. The hotel keepers of Paris are giving their hearty cooperation. Not only have they cooperated anything but the greatest good will and desire to aid us in this pilgrimage to France.

"There can be no doubt but that our visit to the graves of American soldiers buried in France, our trips to the battlefields where our sons and our boy fought side by side for common cause, our visits to French shrines, will go far toward increasing that mutual feeling of good will that existed in 1917 and 1918."

The Omaha convention of the legion "authorized and empowered the French government to conduct its line in the section." Several tracks have been put in on the Albany branch of the road between Thomaston and Albany. These improvements are in preparation for the heavy traffic that is expected as the result of the building of the Perry extension of the road.

FORD PLANES FINISH 5TH LEG OF FLIGHT

Des Moines, Iowa, August 11.—(P)—Twenty-two of the 24 airplanes of the Edsel Ford commercial airplane relay team, en route to the fifth leg of their tour, 220 miles from St. Paul to Des Moines, today, without serious mishap.

The Woodson No. 14, piloted by P. H. Downie, forced down with minor damages near Ankeny, Iowa, was able to continue to the flying field here late today, but the Pitcairn No. 15, piloted by J. G. Ray, took down at 10:45 a.m. in a field northeast of Minocqua, may be out of the tour entirely, a telegram received here said, unless repairs can be quickly made.

The Driggs No. 24, piloted by H. J. Laas, which encountered difficulties on the Milwaukee-St. Paul flight, is repairing the rest of the flight.

The Travel-Air No. 2, piloted by Walter Becker, the first plane to arrive here, landed at 12:28 p. m. and turned in a flying time average of 16:04 miles an hour, which keeps him in the lead he has maintained since the start. The Bal-Moeller No. 11, piloted by L. G. Meister, arrived at 12:29 p. m. for an average flying time of 106.08 miles an hour. The other planes followed at short intervals. As they arrived they were greeted by a committee of Des Moines civic officials, army officials and about 5,000 spectators.

The pilots reported some rain and fog en route.

BERLIN FIREMEN CATCH STRAY BEES IN SPARE TIME

Berlin, August 11.—Catching stray swarms of bees is a task that has been added to the routine work of the Berlin fire brigade these hot summer days.

A job of bee catching demands highly organized team work. Upon receiving a be alarm the police department sends out a car with a tele scope ladder and manned by a crew equipped with gauntlet gloves.

First a general spray is turned on the bees, causing them to swarm on the ladder perch. Then a small box perch high on the ladder and it is swung near the building where the bees are clustered. With a skillful twist he sweeps the bees into his box.

Then a bee master is notified and he takes the bees to his hive where they are kept until their rightful owner claims them.

COAST LINE ROAD BUILDS SIDETRACKS

Thomasville, Ga., August 11.—(Special to THE ATLANTIC COAST LINE RAILROAD)—In laying new sidetracks on its line in the section, several tracks have been put in on the Albany branch of the road between Thomasville and Albany. These improvements are in preparation for the heavy traffic that is expected as the result of the building of the Perry extension of the road.

Amusements

The Howard Theater.

One of the greatest of the triangle school of love stories is being shown at the Greater Howard theater this week. It is Paramount's picturization of "She Would Never Know." Mile Rhee, who appears with Ralph Santoro in a dance specialty in John Murray Anderson's presentation, "The Grecian Urn," this week's stage attraction, has won from numerous critics the distinction of being compared with the famous "Paramount." This is not the case, however, as the Grecian Urn, with the same dancing teacher in Lenox Hill—St. Petersburgh, as it was then called.

It is said in the role of an Irish officer home from the front to check up on the castle and the many mortgages he has inherited from his ancestors. When he returns to the trenches he is wounded after a number of other occurrences and taken to a field hospital, where he meets Lady Gwendolyn Cavens, and there a romance begins. Charming Barbara Beddoe plays the leading feminine role.

Loew's Grand.

With a picture of the dramatic suspense as "The Road to Mandalay," and one of the most diverting vaudeville bills of the year on the program, Loew's Grand theater this week is offering one of the most pleasing programs of the year. In "The Road to Mandalay" Lon Chaney is appearing in one of the great roles of his famous career. The "vanderbilt bill" is headed by the Miller Sisters revue in a beautiful dancing act entitled "A Novel Entertainment Deluxe." Another act which is winning unusual popularity is that of Mitchell and Moore in which the audience gets a double surprise. Marion Davies and Wynona present a clever musical skit, while Jerry Smith and Marie Hart appear in a comedy sketch. Strobel and Mertens open the bill with a daring aerial novelty.

The Rialto.

The moving pictures have made great strides forward in the last few years, but it will take a few more years before a crooked melodrama is produced to equal the newness of the Universal Jewel production, "Outrage the Law," which is the feature on the Rialto theater's program this week.

The striking beauty of Priscilla Dean is shown in the character of "Silly Moll," and a marvelous dual role is portrayed by Lon Chaney. Interestingly, she is created by this sensational melodrama, which was written and directed by Tod Brown.

West End Theater.

Charlie Murray, screen comic, who has a laugh role in Colleen Moore's picture, "Irene," at the West End theater today, picturization of the internationally famed musical comedy, has played just one "exhibit" role in his life. That was as a showman on the streets of Cincinnati, Ohio, to which place his family moved a few years after his birth.

The central episode of "Irene" is a fashion show in natural colors. Original stage was created by Colleen Moore and 16 Hollywood beauties who pose as mannequins in the picture.

Tudor Theater.

The story of a world war veteran, returning to his home in the west, to find his father broken, his home wrecked through the crookedness of another man is told vividly and thrillingly. Fred Thomson's newest picture, "The Two Gun Man," a Stewart Edward White story. And the story of how this man, upon his return, buckles on the old gun belt and starts out in search of the men who had ruined his father, catches them and in the midst of a skirmish captures the bandits and wrecks his vengeance on them.

LABOR DAY PROGRAM PLANS BEING MADE

Plans for Atlanta's annual observance of Labor Day on September 6 are rapidly nearing completion, according to announcement made at the Atlanta Federation of Trades at its regular semi-monthly meeting Wednesday night at the Labor Temple.

The general committee in charge of arrangements for the celebration reported that all organized crafts affiliated with the federation have signified their willingness to cooperate fully to make the observance the most successful in the history of Atlanta.

Detailed plans for the day's program will be announced within the next week or two, it was stated, arrangements including a mammoth parade of union workers in the morning and a varied program of entertainment in the afternoon and at night.

Considerable discussion arose on the floor of the federation as to the participation of organized labor in political affairs, various speakers emphasizing the fact that the American Federation of Labor had one of its major policies the decision to take no action on any political candidate as an organization, merely presenting the candidates' records to the members of the labor movement so as to allow every worker to exercise his suffrage with full information.

In this connection a resolution was adopted declaring that organized labor should take a deeper interest in the organization of the major political parties, to the end that national committeemen friendly to labor shall be named from the various states.

SUBPOENAS SERVED IN GAMBLING PROBE

Ballston Spa, N. Y., August 11.—(P)—In a final effort to compel the attendance of missing witnesses to appear at the Saratoga Springs gambling investigation, Supreme Court Justice Christopher J. Heffernan today took the task of serving subpoenas out of the hands of Saratoga court deputy sheriffs and gave it to state troopers.

Among those whom deputies have reported they are unable to find is Nathaniel Evans, of New York, representative of the New York "Brook" County sheriff, reported that he had visited "The Brook" five times but Evans always was out.

"I found a letter from Governor Smith at my home last night on my return to Amsterdam," said Justice Heffernan, "telling me of a new witness and that this is Evans. Evans has not been located. There are others for whom subpoenas are out. If the Saratoga county officers cannot serve them, then the New York state police will," Justice Heffernan today listened to a number of witnesses who were supposed to be from Saratoga Springs, the town plagued earlier known as "The City of Entertainment." They whom previously mentioned as gambling resorts but asserted they saw no signs of gambling and had not gone in for that purpose.
